Product description:

The DIAMOND 500 Series Hip Thrust machine is a specific product for training the hamstrings with targeted work on the glutes .

Push roller adjustable to multiple heights so as to adapt to all users, which also does not hinder entry to the machine thanks to the assistance lever which allows the release/attachment of the roller.

The tilting backrest follows the movement during the exercise. Rest/safety seat located at the end of the ROM.

The adjustable anti-slip footboard moves on a double guide rail made of alloy steel which allows, together with the linear load-bearing structure , safe and rapid adjustment and resistance over time.

High density foam padding, PU leather upholstery "for furniture". 2 disc holder pins for easy and immediate storage.
