Product description:

The DIAMOND 350 Series Combo Chest Press/Shoulder Press is the solution that allows you to have a machine capable of training the pectoral and shoulder muscles.

The backrest is easily adjustable to different angles depending on the muscle you want to train, going from a flat bench to a shoulder press with all angles in between.

The arms are also adjustable depending on where you decide to have the training focus.

Magnetic pin for load selection. The combination of round and oval tubes together with the matt black sheet metal casing make the machine decidedly elegant.
